FRANCE is getting along if Napoleon III. is not. In 1851 the imports of France were $218,800,000; exports, $304,000,000. In 1865 the imports were $705,600,000, and the exports $817,400,000—showing an increase in 15 years of over $1,000,000,000, in the total trade of the country. The produce of coal has been doubled, and the manufacture of cast and wrought iron tripled during the period. Railroads and telegraphs have proportionately increased. Since 1851, when telegraphic messages numbered only 10,000, they had increased in 1866 to 2,500,000, and the charges had been reduced 70 per cent. In 1851 the number of letters transmitted through the postoffice was 65,000,000. In 1865 the number had increased to 329,000,000. This is decidedly well. But another element in the problem remains to be considered. Taxation has by no means kept pace with the increase of trade. In 1851 the revenue raised from internal and custom duties amounted to $147,-640,500, while in 1866 it had advanced only to $256,453,600.

PHILADELPHIA politicians used to think they were sharper than those of Allegheny; but they are losing that reputation. When the law was passed creating special Assessors to levy the tax on stock in the hands of holders thereof, it was arranged that two members of the Legislature should divide the plum in that city. Messrs. DE HAVEN and KERN were accordingly appoin ted; but neither of them can serve, the Constitution specially providing that men must cease to be law-makers before enjoying the emoluments of executive positions. Why did they not come up to Allegheny and learn the latest dodge?

WE ANNOUNCED several days ago that the Republican, a radical daily of New Orleans, had waged war on Gen. Sheridan. That journal was bitter in its language, but assigned no reason for its onslaught. The telegraph to-day throws some light upon the motives which led to the unjustifiable attack on the gallant hero of Winchester. Sheridan takes open and bold grounds, and handles without gloves the disunionists of the South. His course in abolishing the Board of Levee Commissioners will commend itself to all right minded men, after the perusal of his reply to the Secretary of War upon the subject.

ON MONDAY the Democrats at Washington obtained a full experience of what going to the polls with black men means. There was no disturbance. The whites behaved well, and so did the blacks. The Democrats were, indeed, hurt, but only by the result as announced by the inspectors. The pinch was not so much in allowing negroes to vote as in the way they voted. A Democratic ballot is always savory in the nostrils of Democrats, no matter who hands it in; while a Republican ballot is objectionable, whether polled by a white man or a black one.

THE New York Gazette says:

"The Jersey monopoly road has effected a junction with the Pennsylvania Central at Frankford, and a double track is thus secured from this city to Harrisburg, and thence to the extreme west. The new line is fifteen miles longer than the competing route, but the time is the same."

This improvement, as we understand it, simply cuts across the upper end of the city of Philadelphia, thus avoiding transfer, and making a continuous route. Whoever has suffered of late by going over the Allentown route to New York, and particularly at night, will comprehend the utility of this change.

THE May earnings of that part of the Union Pacific Railway in operation amounted to over a quarter million dollars. The figures are flattering to the management and shadow the results forthcoming after the entire road shall have been completed.

THE New York Constitutional Convention yesterday adjourned in respect to the memory of the delegate from Syracuse, Hon. L. H. Hiscox, who was so cruelly murdered by Gen. Cole. It will reassemble to-day.

CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE arrived yesterday at Raleigh, N. C., to open the United States District Court in that section. He received a decided welcome from the patriotic freedmen and loyal citizens.

THE Japanese Commissioners, having fulfilled their mission to this country, are about to return home. Their naval purchase, the Stonewall, will be taken with them.

MR. T. J. DURANT, of Louisiana, has peremptorily declined the honor of succeeding Gov. Wells, the appointment having been tendered by Gen. Sheridan.

THE twentieth session of the American Homeopathic Institute commenced yesterday in New York city. Two hundred delegates were in attendance.

PRUSSIA refuses to acquiesce to Napoleon's modest request that she would pledge herself against arming Fortress Rastadt.

THE New Hampshire Legislature organized yesterday by electing Republicans as presiding officers of both branches.

WESTERN ITEMS.

LORD MONCK has been appointed Viceroy of Canada. The appointment will prove agreeable to the Canadians.

GOV. BROWNLOW announces that the July interest on Tennessee bonds will be promptly met.

QUEEN VICTORIA is to be honored with a visit from the Sultan of Turkey.

IT IS WELL KNOWN that Mr. John Randolph freed his slaves and furnished them means to locate on lands in Ohio. They numbered about twelve hundred men, women and children, and received about eighty acres of land to a family besides the money bestowed. Their location was in Mercer, one of the counties in Judge Palmer's district. The Judge says there never was one of them before him for any violation of the law; they were an orderly, law-abiding people, industrious and thrifty.

One of the women once came into court as a witness. She was a widow, and two men who were employed on her lands had quarreled, and one of them was killed. The testimony in the case, by its candor and evident conscientiousness, made a profound impression on those who heard it. The principles and habits in which Mr. Randolph trained them, evidently followed them. The county is strongly Democratic, and yet these colored people command general respect by their excellent conduct and character. Their kindly and courteous manners were especially noticed by strangers passing through their country.

—A Chicago gentleman found a few days since, among a lot of paper which he had purchased, the original parchment confirming the granting of six hundred acres of land in the county of Kent, in the Province of Pennsylvania, to Thomas Peterson. The document bears the date, "Twenty-sixth day of ye First Month, One Thousand Six Hundred Eighty and Four, being ye Thirty-six th Year of ye King's Reign, and ye Fourth year of my Government," and is signed "Wm. Penn."

GENERAL NEWS.

—The late disorders in Burmah, and the anarchy which still prevails there, threaten to produce famine. Rice is said to be enormously dear.

—Mons. Gus. Heine, editor and proprietor of the Fremdenblatt of Vienna, and a brother of the late poet, Heinrich Heine, has been ennobled by the Emperor of Austria.

—There is a hat manufacturing establishment in New York, which is capable of turning out 12,000 hats per day. It employs 1,500 operatives, and the sales amount to $3,000,000 annually.

—A crusty old doctor declined to pay his paver's bill, saying "his pavement had been spoiled and then covered up with earth to hide the bad work." "Doctor," was the reply, "mine is not the only bad work they put earth over."

—It will be three years next month since Maximilian and Carlotta entered the Mexican capital as Emperor and Empress, with a degree of pomp and circumstance never before in modern times witnessed in Mexico. It has been a wretched three years for them both.

—A San Francisco pawnbroker, who, two-and-a-half years ago was robbed of $3,000 worth of diamonds, has recently been gladdened in heart by the recovery of his property, and the knowledge that the thief, in attempting to escape, was killed by jumping down a steep precipice.

—Under the statute against profane swearing, a young English gentleman named Allan, the son of a clergyman, was recently summoned before the bench of magistrates at High Wycombe, County of Bucks, for saying "Be d——d if I do." After an examination, he was discharged, with the admonition not to do so any more.

—In Bremen, it is said, a singular custom of taxation prevails. The government announces the sum that it requires, and a chest is placed in the town house, to which every tax payer brings the proportion which he judges if right for him to pay. The amount of tax received has never failed to surpass the estimate of the public necessities.

—At Dukinfield, England, a collier named George Fletcher, who had been forbidden his parents' house on account of his evil courses, got up early one morning, took a poker, and beat his mother about the head with it until she was nearly dead. When discovered, he was kneeling upon the poor woman's body, and still beating her. She was quite insensible, and the poker was broken.

—The New Orleans City Passenger Railway Company having, through the negligence of a driver, run over and severely injured a boy of weak mind, after a long trial a verdict of $26,000 damages has been rendered, $1,000 to the boy's father to pay for medical attendance and similar charges, and the balance for the exclusive use of the boy. The heavy damages awarded for accidents of this kind should teach railroad employes to be careful.

—The Shenandoah Valley in Virginia is said to have almost recovered from the desolations of the late war. Notwithstanding the ravages of the many armies that passed through it, and the almost total destruction of houses, fences and agricultural implements, it is said that this year the farmers will probably have the finest and largest wheat crop ever raised in that region. The lower counties are filled up with Pennsylvania Germans, who are quietly buying up all the farms they can get.

—A writer in one of our weekly papers says that "women grumble much more than men," and enters upon a long course of philosophical reasoning to explain why. May it not be because they have men to grumble at, while men have only women? Some one once explained the curious fact that women are fond of kissing each other—which men never do—by saying that men can do better than kiss each other, while women can't. The explanation of the grumbling phenomenon, we fancy, is somewhat similar.

—Dr. Harris, Superintendent of the Bureau of Vital Statistics in New York, thinks the people of that city had better begin to prepare for another cholera visitation. In a long communication to the Board of Health he calls attention to the fact that the pestilence has been making rapid progress in various countries, and he recommends, accordingly, a free application of disinfectants. He says he does not desire to create unnecessary apprehensions, but that the people to such timely preventive measures as will be most likely to secure them immunity.

—California and Oregon are in dispute as to which has the highest mountain in the United States. The contest lies between Mount Whitney, in California, and Mount Hood, in Oregon. Heretofore Mount Whitney has been estimated at 15,000 feet high, and Mount Hood at 12,000, thus making Mt. Whitney the loftiest. Some one has lately discovered, however, that Mt. Hood is 17,600 feet high, and hence the dispute—California claiming the new measurement to be in error. If the new measurement is correct, the highest Mt. St. Elias, which is said to be but 14,000 feet high, according to true measurement.

—The Augsburg Gazette makes the following observations: "If the neutralization of Luxemburg is not a direct advantage for France, it is unquestionably a loss to Germany. The former Confederation would have lost neither the country nor the fortress; no one would have dared to impose such a mutilation on her. Luxemburg, which province for centuries formed part of the Empire of Germany, and afterward of the Germanic Confederation, has been neutralized; that is to say, it has not become French, but has ceased to be German. Prussia, indeed, losses no part of her territory, but she participates in the damage to German interests, which she claims to represent almost as a monopoly, and the loss of political prestige, results from the abandonment of the position which she had taken up, inflicts also a rather serious moral injury on the aspirations of Prussia." The same journal endeavors to show that England, if ever she should intervene to defend Luxemburg, would arrive too late on the theatre of war, and if she wished to fight for Antwerp, should not wait to take her measures of defence until the enemy should be besieging the fortress.

Twelve Thousand Acres of Roses.

Mr. Blunt, the British vice-consul at Adrianople, in his report to the Foreign Office this year, gives an account of the rose-fields of Adrianople, extending over 12,000 or 14,000 acres, and supplying the most important source of wealth in the district. The season for picking the roses is from the latter part of April to the early part of June; and at sunrise the plains look like a vast garden full of life and fragrance, with hundreds of Bulgarian boys and girls gathering the flowers into baskets and sacks, the air impregnated with the delicious scent, and the scene enlivened by songs, dancing and music.

It is estimated that the rose districts of Adrianople produced in the season of 1866 about 700,000 miscals of attar of roses (the miscal being 1¼ drachm,) the price averaging rather more than 3s sterling per miscal. If the weather be cool during the spring, and there are copious falls of dew and occasional showers, the crops prosper, and an abundant yield of oil is secured. The season in 1866 was so favorable that eight okes of petals (less than 23 pounds,) and in some cases seven okes, yielded a miscal of oil. If the weather is very hot and dry, it takes double that quantity of petals. The culture of the rose does not entail much trouble or expense. Land is cheap and moderately taxed. In a favorable season, a donum (40 paces square,) well cultivated, will produce 1,000 okes of petals, or 180 miscals of oil, valued at 1,500 piastres; the expense would be about 540 piastres—management of the land, 55; tithe, 150; picking, 75; extraction, 260—leaving a net profit of 960 piastres, or about £8 11s. An average crop generally gives about £5 per donum, clear of all expenses.

The oil is extracted from the petals by the ordinary process of distillation. The attar is bought up for foreign markets, to which it passes through Constantinople and Smyrna, where it is generally despatched to undergo the process of adulteration with sandalwood and other oils. It is said that in London the Adrianople attar finds a readier sale when it is adulterated than when it is genuine.

LUCY STONE objects very decidedly to having her sex ranked in political importance lower than the negro. In a recent letter she says:

"When the war was over and the government was to be reconstructed, we again urged our claim for suffrage by petitions, tracts, lectures, &c. What more can we do? Must every individual woman demand suffrage before any of the thousands who have demanded it, can be allowed to exercise that right? Political power inheres in the people.' Women are people. 'Governments derive their just power from the consent of the governed.' Women are governed, and should give their consent. And suffrage is consent. The exercise of this inherent political power, of this consent of the governed, has been denied to us through no fault of ours. Are not those who have withheld it in honor bound to confer it, whether we all ask for it or not? Should not good men, irrespective of party, see to it that their mothers are not placed politically lower than negroes, lower than the great mass of ignorant men who can neither read nor speak our language, and on the same level with the worst of the rebels, who are deprived of their vote as a punishment for treason?"

—Hendershott, who calls himself "the drummer boy of the Rappahannock," has been getting himself into the Western papers by exhibiting himself as the drummer who beat the charge under fire at Fredricksburg, and as a promising protege of the late lamented Lincoln, has appeared in a new character. On Friday he ran-away with, and was secretly married to the daughter of a well known merchant of Poughkeepsie, whom the reticent telegraph does not allow us more particularly to specify. He gave a champagne supper in honor of himself the same night, and left afterwards for the North, having $6,000 of his own, or her own, or some one else's money.

FROM THE STRAITS OF MAGELLAN.

Commander Geo. P. Emmons, commanding the United States steamer Saipee, reports to the Navy Department, under date of West Entrance Magellan's Straits, April 16th, that he left that place on the date of his dispatch, having remained over night at Sandy Point, where he communicated with the Governor of the Chilian settlement, and at his urgent request gave passage to some of his officers to Valparaiso. At Port Gallant Capt. Emmons found the English brig Julia Laughley, which entered the Straits some weeks previous, and put back from the Pacific with her crew, as she was menaced by the natives in canoes. Assistance was tendered to the brig by the commander of the Saipee. At the west entrance, and all along the straits, natives came to the side of the vessel in their canoes, in an almost naked state, clamorous for tobacco, offering in return for it new skins, &c., in exchange. They are becoming very bold and numerous since the whalers have more frequently visited, and trouble to any vessel that may get on shore, or is not manned with sufficient numbers for self-protection. The Saipee, while lounging to Her British Majesty's steamship Warren, now employed in surveying the straits, were wounded by them recently.

ACTS OF CONGRESS FOR STEAM VESSELS.

The Secretary of the Treasury has issued a circular approving the use of the following named locked safety valves, at the option of the steamboat owners, subject, of course, to the usual inspection and test applied by local inspectors, and examination and approval or disapproval, for special reasons, by the Supervising Inspectors. These valves, though in a general character approved, are yet to be subjected to the most careful and exact scrutiny, as to the quality of the materials of workmanship, and their sufficiency in a particular case. This enumeration is by no means to exclude others equally meritorious which may be presented, but Supervising Inspectors are required to afford to all such a thorough and impartial examination, and to those found to possess equal merit. The valves chosen are: First, the American high and low pressure; second, the Robinson high and low pressure; third, the Hathorn high and low pressure; fourth, the Mason high and low pressure; fifth, the McMurchy.

THE LARGE CURRENCY BALANCE.

The large balance in the currency, shown by the public debt statement, is caused principally from receipts from miscellaneous sources and internal revenue near the close of the month, by the collector, to prepare for the interest falling due in a few days on 7-30 notes, and principal of compound interest notes, the 1st of December, and also to meet the requisitions expected in a few days from other departments.

PACIFIC RAILROAD PROGRESS.

The Secretary of the Interior has received a report from Brevet Brig. Gen. J. H. Sampson and Messrs. Wm. M. White and E. F. Bingham, Union Pacific Railroad commissioners, stating that they find the Tenth section of the forty miles of that road, commencing at the Laramie and River, and terminating at three hundred and forty-five miles post, ready for immediate service and equipment. They also report that it is a first class railroad, and therefore recommend the acceptance by the Government of said section.

REDEMPTION OF COMPOUND NOTES.

The Treasury Department is prepared to redeem United States compound interest notes and treasury notes, falling due for payment of the principal and interest thereon in the date of maturity, on their presentation to the Treasurer or either the Assistant Treasurers at New York, Philadelphia or Boston.

THE JAPANESE COMMISSIONERS

Left Washington for New York and Boston. The Japan Commissioner arrives in the steamer of the 11th for San Francisco, to take the Colorado for Japan. The two naval officers remain here to join the Stonewall. Captain Brown, of the navy, has been engaged by the Commissioners to take her out.

THE GOVERNORSHIP OF LOUISIANA—MR. DURANT DECLINES.

It is ascertained that Mr. Durant, this morning, telegraphed to Gen. Sheridan, in response to the appointment tendered him by that officer, as Governor of Louisiana, peremptorily declining the honor.

FROM ALABAMA

State Union Republican Convention —The Platform Adopted.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MONTGOMERY, June 5.—The Union Republican Convention of Alabama adjourned sine die to-day, after two days' session. Over forty counties were represented by about one hundred and seventy delegates. To-day the Committee on Platform made a report, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the republican party of Alabama declares itself a part of and in alliance with the National Republican party of the Union, and exhorts all friends of the Union of these States.

Resolved, That we endorse the action of Congress, and the policy of reconstruction, and will heartily endeavor to carry out the same to its conclusion.

Resolved, We will endeavor to secure, by amendments to the Constitution and laws of the United States and state, the equal rights of all men, and the full enjoyment of the rights of citizenship without distinction on account of color.

Resolved, We are friends and advocates of free speech, free labor, free men, free soil and most liberal provision by the State for the purpose of educating the people thereof, and that we declare there is no distinction between the inhabitants of the State in civil or political rights on account of color or previous condition.

Resolved, That we discountenance to stir up strife and contention among the people, believing such a course in every way injurious to the country.

Resolved, That those men who stood firm to the cause of Union are entitled to that confidence which is the reward of patriotism and fidelity to the land.

Resolved, That we pledge our endeavors to secure the removal of the tax on cotton and State taxation, as far as we have sole in the State that the tax paid by every man shall be exactly in proportion to his property and none other.

Resolved, That we recommend to the people of the State that they manifest to the world their determination to abide by the peaceful termination of reconstruction by electing to office men who can comply in all respects with the requirements of the acts of the Congress of the United States, and to support for office only such men as are true to the Union and who prefer the government of the United States to control in matters to be formed. That all men have cordial welcome to political equality upon this basis.

FROM RALEIGH, N. C.

The Presidential Party—Arrival of Chief Justice Chase and Reception —He makes a Speech.

RALEIGH, N. C. June 5.—The President and party departed for Chapel Hill this morning.

Judge Chase, who comes to open the United States District Court, arrived this afternoon. He was met at the depot by two thousand freedmen, with banners and music. The whole city was illuminated. The assemblage cheering lustily. A procession was formed and he was escorted through the principal streets. He addressed the people from the balcony of which, in response to vociferous calls, he made the following speech:

My Friends: I thank you for your kind reception on behalf of the citizens of Raleigh, and rejoice I have the opportunity to meet you, and meet you with all men upon an equality and equal before the law. We have passed through a fiery trial, but with the peace which has followed we have freedom, and that in full, without exception of color, aid in restoring our whole country. That I believe, and ever will be the desire of my heart. I thank you again for the kindness of your reception.

Mayor Haywood introduced him, and he was accompanied on the balcony by Rev. Dr. Brady, a colored clergyman. The crowd, as he retired, gave him three rousing cheers.

FROM CHARLESTON, S. C.

General Sickles' Recent Orders Causing Depression—Board of Trade Meeting—Suicide in Prison.

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 5.—Considerable depression prevails in this community owing to the recent orders of General Sickles, interfering in municipal affairs. During the last two days city stock has fallen one to fifteen per cent. The Board of Trade has passed a resolution deprecating some of the provisions of order No. 32 as injurious to the city, and appointing a committee to confer with General Sickles in relation thereto.

A white man named Kerrs, who was recently committed to jail on a charge of attempted rape on a little colored girl, hung himself in a cell last night.

Preparing for the Fenians.

MONTREAL, June 5.—The British War Office has decided to send 30,000 Snyder Enfield rifles to Canada for the use of volunteers. A large quantity of Snyder ammunition has been sent for the use of regulars and volunteers.

CONDENSED NEWS.

—A private dispatch from Washington reports the following changes in the condition of the public debt, as shown by the statement of June 1st, compared with that of May 1st: 5-20's, increase, $25,000,000; 7-30's, decrease, $37,000,000; Compound Notes, decrease, $1,000,000; Coin Certificates, decrease, $2,000,000. The amount of coin in the treasury is stated at $81,000,000, and of currency at $71,000,000, against $33,000,000 on May 1st. If this last item, showing an increase of $38,000,000 in the currency balance be correct, the present condition of the money market is readily accounted for.

—A mixed Convention of Republicans assembled at Montgomery, Alabama, on Tuesday. The offices were impartially distributed among the two harmonious races, Judge Smith, a white man, being elected President, and the darkies receiving half the remaining offices. Gen. Swayne, Gov. Patton and others were present. A motion to invite Judge Busteed to a seat on the platform was violently opposed by the negroes, and on its being renewed in the afternoon session, the Macon county delegation seceded, whereupon the Convention adjourned.

—Omaha dispatches state the Indians captured twenty-five head of cattle from the railroad employees twenty miles west of Julesburg on Monday. A coach was attacked near Fairview Station on Sunday and two drivers killed. There was but one passenger in the coach and he escaped by running to the river.

—The Senatorial excursion party spent Tuesday at Gen. Argur's headquarters at the end of the track (as far as laid) of the main stem of the Union Pacific Railroad, three hundred miles beyond Fort Kearney and Omaha. Two and a quarter miles of track were laid during the day.

Physical Exercise.

The Westminster Gazette declaims against too much physical exercise, and expresses the opinion that physical development is liable to be carried too far. It says:

Of course it is a very grand thing to be able to maintain one's right against half a dozen coal-heavers, or to figure as the champion of an injured respectability against blackguardism, as Sir Robert Clifton did a little time back in the public streets. But these are exceptional cases, and a few men can be pointed out who are distinguished both as pugilists and scholars. But the greatest and most dangerous abuse, and one that ought most sedulously to be discouraged among young men, is what is technically known as "training." Who can appreciate the indignation of the ancients when they decry the insane discipline of over-enthusiastic athletes? Then, as now, they studied to bring their bodies to a premature perfection at the expense of both mind and body for the remainder of their lives. Those who have gone through the severest training become in the end dull, listless, and subject to numerous diseases, and in many instances the ultimate victims of gluttony and drunkenness. Their unnatural vigor seldom lasts more than five years. It was especially remarked by the Greeks of the days of their prime. The morning was devoted to religious exercises. In the afternoon there was an address from the Bishop, giving an exhibition of the condition of the Church and Church enterprises in the Diocese.

THE ADLINGTON HOMICIDE.

The Prisoner Sentenced to Twenty-four Years Imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary.

John S. Adlington, who was convicted of murder in the first degree in the Butler county Court, on the charge of killing Jas. H. Temple and Sidney Cunningham, at Portersville, on Christmas eve last, was granted a new trial on Tuesday, on the ground that the grade of murder should not have been higher than that of second degree. His Honor, Judge Mellinger, said: In the first case, for the murder of Shirley B. Cunningham, tried at the last term, in which a motion for a new trial had been made and argued at the adjourned Court in April, and held under advisement, the Court were of the unanimous opinion that a new trial should be granted. The evidence had been carefully and accurately reported and printed in the Pittsburgh Gazette. They had read it attentively and were of the opinion it did not warrant a verdict beyond that of murder in the second degree. They cast no reflections upon the jury who tried the prisoner. They were intelligent, conscientious men. We think that would be the degree of guilt. In the absence of proof of deliberation, on the part of the Commonwealth, the jury would have found the grade of second degree. The meeting at Oliver's on the night of the 24th of December, 1866, was for a lawful purpose. The young and fine gentlemen had met for a party; they had been interrupted by violent and improper language from the deceased men in the early part of the evening, and, with the exception of others, had been requested to be prepared to assist John Oliver in case of further disturbance. They went to no house particularly promised to conduct themselves orderly, for the remainder of the evening, in consideration of being permitted to participate in the party. The disturbance afterwards was such as to cause excitement, anger, hot blood. The fact that the prisoner gave warning, as he afterwards did in the house, rebutted the presumption of premeditation; if he had predetermined to kill, he would not have exhibited the knife and given the warning. When he saw Oliver, his friend, prostrate on the floor, and a chair in the hands of a strong man, upraised over his head, he was appealed to by Jones not to permit them to kill Oliver—it was sufficient cause to incite hot blood in a fighting man, as Adlington had been proven to be, and destroy the presumption of deliberation or premeditation. But deliberation must be proven by the prosecution, failing to which the law fixes the grade (where it is certain who committed the act,) as murder in the second degree. Therefore, we are of opinion the jury erred in the degree of guilt, and a new trial is granted.

THE PRISONER PLEADS GUILTY.

The prisoner then, at the suggestion of his counsel, put in a plea of guilty to the indictment charging him with the murder of James H. Temple. The indictment charging him with the murder of Sidney B. Cunningham, and a plea of not guilty entered, he was then arraigned in the degree of guilt, and a new trial is granted.

THE DEGREE FIXED.

Judge McGuffin said it now became the duty of the Court to fix the grade of the homicide, which, from a careful consideration of the law and the facts, they should not hesitate to record as murder in the second degree.

The Court then addressed the prisoner, and asked him if he had anything to say why the sentence of the law should not be pronounced if

The Pittsburgh Gazette

THURSDAY, JUNE 6, 1867.

THERE was a time when Democratic orators went about the country with Bibles well conned to prove that slavery was not only a patriarchial but a Divinely appointed institution. Their theory was that it was both punitive and beneficent. It was designed in part as a punishment for some bad conduct of Ham or Canaan, and which it was thought best unnumbered generations of his descendants should suffer rather than have him bear it in his own person. In part, also, it was intended as a grand evangelizing instrumentality, through which, by deprivation of rights here, should come everlasting beatitude on the other side of the grave. We never could perceive the consistency or cogency of this theory, and have often marvelled at the imperturbable gravity with which sundry of our Democratic acquaintances, who cared more for gaining votes than for saving souls, expended their ingenuity in expounding and enforcing it.

For two years past we have rested in the comforting assurance that events had made an end of these graceless attempts to degrade the character of the Almighty and to shake the faith of devout but weak souls in the Revelation he has made of himself; but it seems our hope was premature. Mr. J. MONTGOMERY PETERS is a Democratic member of the Maryland Constitutional Convention. Mentally and morally he belongs to the era before the Flood. Probably he could have turned up now nowhere exeept in one of "the border States," which not having been "purified, so as by fire," have held on to an immense amount of rubbish, which is giving their own people, and the people of the whole Union, a vast amount of unnecessary trouble.

This Mr. PETERS has made two speeches of late in said Convention, in the old-time gibberish. He went gravely through all the platitudes cencerning the Divine origin and the human necessity of Slavery, and wound up by solemnly expressing his opinion that Slavery would speedily be restored in all its former fullness and strength. If he only manages to survive till his prediction shall be fulfilled, he will be the modern counterpart to the longevity of the Wandering Jew.

A FEW YEARS AGO, when the demand was first seriously made in this country, that women should be admitted to an equal participation with men in political rights, the Conservatives thought a sneer was the only answer it was necessary or desirable to give. Some of them went so far as to insist that there was a peculiar significance in that curious collocation of MOSES, whereby a man's house, wife, ox, ass and other things are huddled together. One of the most eager and impiacable among them, with whom it has fallen to our lot to be intimate, used to insist that therein was a Divine right for regarding wives as chattels personal, and this exposition he attempted to fortify by citing the manner in which the patriarchs, when they wanted wives for themselves or their sons, were accustomed to buy them as they did slaves or cattle.

The movement has now made such headway that all this stuff is conceded to be irrelevant and out of place. When the Constitutional Convention of a Commonwealth proposes that its organic law shall be so altered as to make no distinction between men and women as to political rights; when men like Mr. J. STUART MILL, learnedly and earnestly argue in favor of this reform in the British Parliament; it must generally be conceded that the demand can no longer be dismissed with a sneer or be turned aside by ridicule.

The British Constitution has always admitted women, upon due succession, to the enjoyment of regal power. The present occupant of the throne is a woman. Some of the greatest monarchs that have worn the English or the Scotch crowns were females. Spain is ruled by a Queen to-day, though, it must be confessed, not a very good one. Austria and Russia record in their respective annals no greater rulers than some of their empresses. This admission of women to the highest political rank has not been regarded as fanatical or mischievous. But here, as elsewhere, the greater includes the less. If women may wield scepters, why may they not deposit ballots?

SOME Southern gentlemen give evidence that the failure of the rebellion and the emancipation of the blacks has imparted a sombre tinge to all their conceptions of current events. One such, writing from Mississippi to a friend in Cincinnati, commences by declaring that "things are going from bad to worse every day." Under ordinary circumstances the natural inference would be that there was likely to be a failure of the crops, either through natural causes, or because the people had become lazy and improvident. But he takes care, in the next sentence, to anticipate this inference and refute it. "The crop prospects are very fair, and the people are generally working well." These are indications of thrift and coming enjoyment. But the distressed gentleman cannot see it. After beating about awhile he comes to the point, which he states in these words: "All we have to do is to work and toil; try to do right and trust to Providence. Should the blacks and mean whites get possession of our State government, I don't see how honest white men are to remain in the country." That is putting the matter singularly. He is willing to "trust to Providence," provided Providence will be so obliging as to arrange matters as he would like to have them. If Providence should not happen to agree with him in opinion, and shall not fix things to suit his pre-conceived ideas, he, and other "honest men" mean to be provoked and quit the country. Does the innocent soul expect, in this way, to bully Providence?

WE WERE WRONG in stating that Mr. Thomas Williams had made up his mind there was no reasonable basis for proceeding with the impeachment of the President. When the Judiciary Committee came to a vote, the division was, for impeachment, Messrs. Boutwell, Thomas, Lawrence and Williams; against, Messrs. Wilson, Churchill and Woodbridge, Republicans, and Messrs. Marshall and Eldridge, Democrats.

Upon the resolution censuring the President all the Republicans voted in the affirmative, and the two Democrats in the negative.

It is given out that the Committee still expect to make important, if not conclusive developments. But we think it safe to infer that if the protracted and vigilant search already made has failed to discover evidence against the President of so positive a nature as to unite the Republican members of the Committee in a determination to have him arraigned, the further pursuit of the investigation might as well be relinquished.

SEVERAL of the South American governments have been engaged in fighting each other for some time past. The Administration at Washington offered its friendly offices as Mediator between them. Each of them has declined the proffered aid. It is worth while to ask, why the United States stands so ill with all other nations on this continent? Is it because its superiority over these other nations has been asserted offensively? Is it because our goverament has shown a disposition to aggress upon the rights of its neighbors whenever prompted by ambition or avarice? Whatever may be the answers to these questions, the fact remains that the United States does not live with the other governments on this continent.

EXCURSION TO THE UNION PACIFIC RAILWAY—EASTERN DIVISION.

[Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, June 2, 1867.

At 2 A. M. on Saturday morning I joined the excursion party which left Philadelphia on Friday noon. It consisted then of some sixty ladies and gentlemen, among whom were General Simon Cameron, and wife; Gen. A. F. Stevens, M. C., of New Hampshire, and wife; Marquis de Chambrun, a grandson of Gen. La Fayette, a very interesting and intelligent gentleman, and many others, the names of whom I shall not send you to-day. Probably in my next letter I shall give you a full list.

The party is an exceedingly pleasant and agreeable one, and our trip to this place was truly a pleasure excursion. The weather yesterday was warm but bright and pleasant. Last night we had a heavy shower, perhaps several of them, for I slept too soundly to know much about the weather. This morning we rose a little after the sun on the broad prairies of Illinois, and a more glorious sight, from both earth and sky, seldom falls upon human vision. We were detained in the night about two hours, so that it was ten o'clock instead of eight when we reached the Southern Hotel, where we are to remain until to-morrow afternoon, when we take our departure for Kansas and the Smoky Hill, to see the grandest enterprise now in progress in the world, the Union Pacific Railway.

I have met Mr. Perry, the President of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, and some other gentlemen connected with it, who greeted us cordially, but we have not discussed the subject at all. They seem to be in the finest spirits. General Wm. J. Palmer, the Treasurer of the road, and one of the most energetic men I know, met us at Columbus, Ohio.

The wheat crop from Pennsylvania to the Mississippi looks very promising. We saw not a single field in which it could be said to be a failure. Corn is very backward. In Ohio I saw some fields prepared for planting, but the seed is not yet in. In Illinois it is up and of good color. But enough of such matters for this time.

This afternoon Mr. David E. Small, of York, Pa., and I, visited the "Southern Mission Sabbath School," situated about a dozen squares south of this hotel. This school, which is strictly a mission school, was organized mainly through the well directed efforts of that earnest Christian hero, General Fiske. It is held in a handsome and substantial brick building erected expressly for the purpose, the size of which may be estimated when I say that it is amply sufficient, on a single floor, to accommodate upwards of twelve hundred children with some fifty or sixty teachers. That was about the number present to-day. I never saw better order in a school, or more apparent earnestness in its appropriate work. The pupils, gathered from all ranks and creeds, were neatly clad, clean and well behaved. The Superintendent, an intelligent and accomplished gentleman, seemed, without effort, to keep this multitude of "juveniles," gushing with life, perfectly in hand.

For nearly an hour they sang—piece after piece; and such singing could only be acquired under accomplished teachers. Something, perhaps, is due to the large German element there is in the school. To hear from hundreds of young voices words of holy song, so clearly and distinctly uttered that they fell upon the ear like round shots of melody, was both inspiring and delightful. In several of the pieces the chorus was repeated by the children of the infant school only (some four hundred in number, and occupying a distinct department of the hall, the most remote from the platform where we sat) and the words floated back to us as distinctly as if uttered by a single voice. It was like a sweet, soft echo, and had a singularly pleasing and touching effect.

After the singing the school was briefly addressed by the delegates of the Irish Presbyterian Church to the churches of the same denomination in this country, Rev. Dr. Denham, of Londonderry, and Rev. Dr. Hall, of Dublin, and by Geo. H. Stewart, Esq., who accompanies them in their tour through this country. All those gentlemen are admirable speakers, and so, taken all together, this was one of the most interesting visits to a Sunday School that it was ever my privilege to make.

In the evening a considerable number of our party went together to the hall of the Mercantile Library to hear these same gentlemen address the people on the subject of "How the Gospel is to be brought in contact with the masses." The hall—the largest in the city, and the grandest in size, symmetry and adornments I ever saw—was so full that many extra seats had to be brought in, many stood, and many more went away unable to get in at all. The addresses, especially that of Dr. Hall, were eloquent and powerful appeals to Christians in behalf of thousands who are perishing around them. Twice or thrice, at the close of an address, the entire audience rose and sung a single stanza with impressive effect.

At the Sunday School I had a brief interview with Mr. Stewart and his Irish friends. He told me that on next Sabbath they will be in Pittsburgh to speak on the same subject. I trust that they will meet as warm a reception as they did here, I can promise our people a rich treat for both head and heart.

So much for our progress thus far, and for this day's experience. It has greatly deepened my interest in this mighty and expanding Trans-Mississippi metropolis, from which inconceivably potent influences are now flowing and will continue to flow with ever-increasing volume and power. Good night. J. C.

THE COUNTY CONVENTION.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I am much pleased with your comments on the obnoxious resolution adopted by the Republican Convention that assembled at the Court House yesterday.

If the members of that Convention suppose that intelligent Republicans will endorse such a resolution, I venture the opinion they are greatly mistaken. Those of the party who have for thirty years or more advocated the equality of man and his right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, are not likely to fall in with such narrow and proscriptive views, and go back to the days when men were proscribed on account of their place of birth. I have not so learned the principles of the Republican party, and there are not a few who will repudiate such political heresy as the resolution inculcates. I am one of those who believe it is always best to "Do to others as you would have others to do to you;" and in this age of progress and advanced civilization, I wonder men would put forth such selfish views. To my mind they are unworthy the great Republican party—a party that crushed rebellion and gave freedom to so many bondmen. I say those views are unworthy a party of such glorious achievements. I write this communication because I love Republican principles and do not wish the party placed in a false position.

Respectfully yours,
JAMES ROBB.

COL. H. L. RICHMOND has withdrawn from the Senatorial contest in the Erie and Crawford district. The remaining contestants are Col. MCCOY, of Crawford, and Mr. MORROW B. LOWRY, of Erie. Of Mr. LOWRY the Meadville Republican says:

"He sets himself up as the special champion of the canal enlargement, but forgets to state that he was only brought to sustain that measure by a bargain looking to his re-election. He avows himself in favor of a new county, although any time for six years past he might have secured the desired legislation in its favor in the Senate. He claims the support of religious people because of his Sunday Car speech, which was simply a piece of blatant blasphemy, that marked him as a coarse, ignorant, frothy, demagogue, and a bigot. That a man of his notorious character morally, should appeal to christians for support, shows how far the lust of office will impel an impudent imposter in his importunities. His effrontery in a religious sense could hardly be rivalled by a pirate of the first water. To those familiar with his history he can only be regarded as a ranting hypocrite. It is a favorite habit among blacklegs to affect clerical costume and manners, and it often happens that political gamblers assume like habits for the purpose of deceiving good men."

The Erie Dispatch, in reviewing the contest, says:

"We say the decision is already made —the game is up—McCoy is the next Senator—and that all M. B. Lowry can do with his new county, his canal enlargement, his boasted influence, his money, his moral speeches, his investigating committees, his trees planted by the "hand of God," his love for the negro, his blasphemous oratory, his church membership, his cattle on a thousand hills, his thousand and other things, will not prevent it. The time has come for the people to pronounce judgment upon him, and it will be done so effectually that the Gabriel and resurrection which he talks so much about in his speeches, will not know where or how to find him. Good-bye, thou saintly hypocrite."

REMEMBER

That Sickness at the Stomach, Pain between the Shoulders and in the Right Side, Yellow Suffusion of the Skin, Costiveness, Drowsiness and Languor, Dimness of Sight, Colic, Palpitation of the Heart, Dry Cough, Low Fever, and other symptoms which indicate the various phases of Acute and Chronic Liver Complaint, are, one and all, promptly relieved, and finally removed, by the action of that famous preparation,

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS,

Which is at once the best of correctives, the gentlest and most genial of aperients, an infallible regulator, and a powerful restorative. Persons of a bilious habit, who use the Bitters as a protective medicine, will never suffer the pains and penalties of Liver Disease or Bilious Remittent Fever. No words can do justice to its

MARVELOUS PROPERTIES.

It stands pre-eminent among the health restoring preparations of the age, and every year adds to its fame, not only in this country, but throughout the civilized world.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called PINUS CANADENSIS, or WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, exabling them to regain their ost tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, much delighted at radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidney of years standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of ASA GOODHUE, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prescribed in the form of tincture, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in piles and catarrh; in humors of the skin; relaxation of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all gravelly affections, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocations; and instead of enfeebling, produces a bracing, healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle; or for $5.

Court of Quarter Sessions.

This Court met Wednesday at ten o'clock, Hon. Thomas Mellon on the bench, Col. L. B. Duff, District Attorney.

AS AGIST HATS.

Ellis Shipman, defendant in a surety case, in which Catharine Patterson was the complainant, was ordered to pay the costs. The prosecutrix testified that defendant came to her house in Bell's alley, Allegheny, at eleven o'clock at night, and desired admittance at that unseasonable hour; she refused to admit him, when he threatened to smash in the door and used abusive language. She identified Shipman by the "light of the moon," and was positive that he was the person. On the other hand Shipman endeavored to establish the fact that he was elsewhere at the time mentioned, in other words to prove an alibi. Judge Mellon did not regard the evidence on this point satisfactory, and hence ordered the defendant to pay the costs.

NOL. CONTENDERE.

John Raum, indicted for assault and battery, on oath of his wife, put in the plea of nolo contendere, and was sentenced to pay a fine of 6¼ cents and costs. He was also ordered to pay the costs in a surety case. The parties reside in Sharpsburg.

ON HIS THIRD TRIAL.

Theodore Parker Lyman, indicted for larceny, was placed upon his third trial. He was charged, at December term, 1866, with the larceny of articles of clothing from the dyeing establishment of Mr. Massey, on Fourth street, was tried and acquitted. Shortly afterwards, on the same day, we believe, he was re-arrested, on the information of a party to whom one of several coats stolen belonged, the prosecution in the first instances being instituted by Mr. Massey, who had the garments in the possession for the purpose of repairing it. The second arrest was brought about by the accused going to the Mayor's office for the purpose of getting the coat which, on the trial had not been identified as stolen, and had been claimed by him when first a rested. Subsequently, however, the coat was identified by the party who left it at Massey's, and hence, Lyman having persisted in his claim to it, a second information was made against him. He was tried at the March term, and convicted, notwithstanding his plea of former acquittal. There was some controversy as to the nature of the testimony on the point whether Lyman had been acquitted on the first trial of the larceny of the particular coat in question, it being claimed that although the garment was in Court with other articles, it was not offered in connection with the case, the prosecutor, Massey, being unable to say that it had ever been in his possession. On the second trial, the coat was positively identified, and the prosecutor stated in addition that he left it at Massey's to be cleansed. Under this evidence the coat having unquestionably been taken from Massey's, and having been found in the possession of Lyman, who also claimed it as his own, (which claim he made no pretense to establish,) the jury convicted. The Court, however, giving the accused the benefit of a technicality, allowed him another trial. So Lyman was arraigned for the third time. The evidence adduced presented no new features. The point relied on by the defense, on the plea of former acquittal, was the fact that the coat alleged to be stolen was described in the first indictment, upon which the jury passed in finding the verdict of not guilty. Divested of all subterfuges, the case stood thus: The coat was taken, together with a considerable number of articles of clothing, from Massey's establishment. Lyman, with two others was arrested for the larceny. None of the stolen property, save the coat stated, was, however, found in his possession, and his acquittal was owing to the fact that Massey could not identify it, and it would undoubtedly have been given to him upon his demand, after the trial, but for the fact that the proper owner accidentally happened into the Mayor's office, and recognized his property. Lyman was acquitted of the larceny of "one beaver cloth overcoat," but the one in question, in the second, and also in this third trial, not having been identified on the first, and in fact really considered as Lyman's property until by a mere accident, identified by the rightful owner, Col. Duff, the District Attorney, fairly reasoned that there was no danger of injustice being done the accused by his conviction, as there seemed to be no room for doubt on the main question, the fact that the stolen coat was found in his possession, for which he did not attempt to account. The counsel for the accused, Messrs. Moorhead and Cochran, were earnest in his behalf and seemed impressed with his innocence, which we were not uncharitable enough to believe assumed.

The jury found a verdict of guilty, and for the Commonwealth on the plea of former acquittal. The jury also recommended the prisoner to the mercy of the Court.

WIFE DESERTION CASE.

Commonwealth vs. Samuel Bigley. The defendant was complained of by his wife for desertion. The parties reside in the vicinity of Tarentum, and, although married for several years, never lived together, each remaining with their parents. The husband went to the army, and on his return refused to contribute anything to the support of his wife and child. Hence the application to compel him to act the part of a husband. By way of defense it was stated that the husband had petitioned for a divorce, and whereas offered damaging to the character of the wife. A young man named Boriand testified to having been with her on a certain occasion, and refused to state what took place, for the reason, that if he did, he would criminate himself. The case was held under advisement.

Cherry Run district is reported as a promising territory. Pioneer Run, Forster and Upper McElhinney farms are said to be declining. The new wells yield from 10 to 25 barrels only. Bull Run, Cow Run, Bennehoff Run, Hyde, Egbert & McClintock, Rynd Farm, and from Rouseville to Oil City, are said to be either running down or at a stand. Bennehoff Hill and Stevenson's Farm are spoken of as good territory. Upper Cherry Run promises to be very productive. The Story Farm is first-class territory, and has plenty of room. The Blood Farm, yielding 50 barrels, expects to run up to 60, when the non-yielding wells shall be plugged. The Triumph tract over 200 acres, is considered the best oil territory yet found. It is extensive, and a dry hole is a thing unknown upon it. It is deemed safe to count upon every well put down, beginning with 100 to 200 barrels, and settling down to not less than 40 or 50. This territory is much sought after, and about 40 wells are bored or being bored. Some danger is apprehended that the number of wells is so great that they cannot long continue productive. This might be avoided by keeping them further apart.

It is proper to say that many men engaged in the oil business think the above estimate of daily production is 1000 or 1500 barrels in excess of the actual facts. We have, however, great faith in the accuracy of our friends investigations, and see but little chance of any material improvement in prices until the production falls off or the consumption increases. We are not without hope that the experiment being made will demonstrate the economical adaptation of petroleum as a generator of steam for ocean and river navigation. This would lift the oil business at once from its great depression and impart to it new life and activity.

—The notes of the following broken banks are selling at a premium: Venango National Bank, Franklin, Pa.; Tennessee National Bank, Memphis, Tenn.; First National Bank, Attica, New York; First National Bank, Medina, New York; First National Bank, Columbus, Mo.; First National Bank, Carondelet, Mo., Mechanics' National Bank, N. C. This rather anomalous fact of the bills of broken National Banks selling at a premium on the bills of solvent banks puzzles the ordinary comprehension of the uninitiated not a little, and yet the explanation is very simple and easily understood. The limit to circulation to National Banks under the National Banking Law is three hundred millions of dollars. This limit was long since reached, and there are still National banks without any circulation and many others with much less than they desire. In order to relieve it itself of trouble as much as possible, the Department has said to some of these banks desiring more currency, that to the extent that they will redeem the bills of broken banks will it issue new notes to the banks desiring circulation. This proposition has created quite a rivality among this latter class of banks, and in some instances a premium as high as two per cent. is offered for the broken bank notes.

Cincinnati Market.

CINCINNATI, June 3.—Flour dull and prices nominal; Family, $12,25@13,00, in the jobbing way. Wheat very dull and no demand. No. 2 Winter offered at $2,50. Corn dull and prices nominal at 80@85c in bulk, with no demand. Oats dull; No. 1 offered at 65@66c, with no buyers. Rye unsettled and prices nominally 15@20c lower; No. 1 was offered at $1,50 at the close this afternoon. Whisky dull at 25@25½c. Oil is still quoted in this city, but even at this reduction, it will not pay to bring to this market. In another place will be found a detailed statement of the daily production in the Venango regions, carefully prepared by a gentleman who has been on a tour of observation. This subject is attracting a good deal of attention just now, as it is a matter of vital importance to everybody engaged, but the views and reports are so conflicting that it is simply impossible to arrive at a definite conclusion. The estimates vary all the way from 6,000 to 10,000 barrels, and it is probable that if the two extremes were divided, the result would come as near it as it is possible to get at the actual daily production.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil continues very weak, and prices are still declining. We can report a sale of 3000 bbls standard white, 500 each month from July to December, at 27; 500 prime light straw to white, for August, at 26; and 500 bbls light straw to white, at 20, all to be delivered in Philadelphia. The first sale noted is the lowest reported this season for that particular delivery, and from this it would appear that the bottom has not yet been touched, notwithstanding it was hoped that such was the case.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day:

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
WEDNESDAY, June 5, 1866. }

CRUDE—The market continues very weak, and under the influence of continued unfavorable advices from the east as well as Europe, holders find it difficult to sell, unless concessions are made, and even then, buyers are scarce. Spot oil may be quoted at 6½@6¾c—sale of 500 bbls on spot, on private terms, and 500 bbls to be delivered in July, seller's option, at 7½c. Financial Matters in New York.

Gold Closed at 136⅞.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 5, 1867.

MONEY AND GOLD.

Money active and firm, at 6@7. Prime discounts quiet, at 7@7½. The disbursements of the treasury will be heavy throughout the present week, and these in time will bring relief to the market. There will, however, be considerable money required to remove crops to the seaboard. This will tend to keep up the rates of interest. About eight millions of coupon interest notes are to be paid on the 10th. Sterling firm but quiet, 109@109¼ for best bills. Gold steady, opening at 136⅝; declining to 136⅝; and closing at 136⅞, bid; 136⅝ asked. There is little speculative disposition. Shipment to Europe to-day, $213,815, and $211,000 from Boston.

GOVERNMENTS.

Government securities steady; Regulars '81, 107¾@108; Coupons do, 112@112⅝; Regulars '62, 109¾@109⅝; Coupons do, 109⅝@110; do '64, 105¾@106; do '65, new 108¼@108⅝; 10-40 coupons, 93⅝@93¾; August '7-30s, 106⅛@106⅜; June and July, 105⅞@105⅝.

RAILWAY.

The Railway market opened tame and lower, with a strong bearish feeling; Northwest common particularly weak and fell fully 1 per cent. The market was dull but steady, at the 1 o'clock board, and strong at the 2 o'clock board, and subsequently firm to the close.

CLOSING QUOTATIONS.

Gold 136⅜@136⅞. Ohio and Missouri certificates 24¾; Canton 40@40¼; Quicksilver 24¼@25; Mariposa 6@7; do preferred 18¼@19; Western Union 45; Pacific Mail Steamship Company 133½@134; Atlantic Mail 105¾@106½; New York Central 98¾@98⅝; Illinois Central 118¼@119; Erie 39¾@40½; Hudson 104¼@104¾; Reading 104¼@104⅝; Missouri Central 110½; Missouri Southern 67¾@67⅝; Pittsburgh 76@76¼; Toledo 114¾@115; Rock Island 97¾@98; North Western 64¼@64½; Preferred 86¼@86½; Fort Wayne 97¾.

COAL STOCKS

Quiet and firm.

BORDER STATE BONDS

Weak on Tennessee's at 67@67¼. Missouri's higher at 97¼@98½. Virginia's 66@66; new do 41¾.

MINING SHARES

Quiet; Gregory 60; Corydon 170; Quartz Hill 105@109; Peoples 55; Lacrosse active at 120@130; Rockland Copper 875; Davidson 100; Wallkill Lead firm at 50.

SUB-TREASURY.

The receipts of the Sub-Treasury are $5,704,321, including customs $360,000, and Agold notes $328,000. The payments were $2,440,193. The balance is $128,008,704.

REMARKS.

The decline in Corn to-day was occasioned by the heavy decline in Liverpool, owing to the receipt of nearly 350,000 bushels from the Black Sea ports. The crop accounts continue favorable from all points, and the harvest promises earlier than was generally expected. New ripe wheat from Georgia is on exhibition at the Cotton Exchange, which was cut last week. In some sections of New Jersey farmers are already harvesting rye, which was thought would be late.

New Orleans Market.

NEW ORLEANS, June 5.—Cotton is firm but unchanged, with sales of 1,500 bales low middlings at 29½c. Receipts this week 7,000 bales. Stock on hand by actual count 95,962 bales. Sugar and Molasses; no sales. Flour is dull, with no quotable prices; inferior, at $11,25; choice extra, $17,12½@18,00. RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point with about eight and a half feet in the channel by the Allegheny marks last evening. The weather was excessively hot in the sun, and towards evening there were indications of a storm.

Business is about as active at the landing as could be expected at this season of the year. There is a moderate amount of freight offering, mainly for St. Louis, and occasionally the shipments to Cincinnati and Louisville are pretty liberal. It should not be inferred from this that trade is active, as such is not the case; but, what we mean is, that there is a fair business doing, taking everything into consideration.

The Argosy left for Cincinnati yesterday with a fair trip, and she will probably pick up considerable at points below. The Belle is due from Cincinnati on Friday, and will return again on Saturday.

Hereafter the Allegheny River packet Company will have a boat go out every other day, instead of every day (Sunday excepted) as has been the case heretofore. This change, we presume, has been made in consequence of a falling off in business. It is altogether probable that these boats will soon have to go into summer quarters, as the season for steamboating on the Allegheny River is rapidly drawing to an end.

The Importer, Capt. Noss, is filling up steadily for St. Louis and the Missouri River, and will be the first boat out. She has good accommodations for passengers. The Kate Putnam, Capt. Lightner, is next in turn after the Importer.

The Ida Rees and Belle arrived at Cincinnati on Monday night, and the Julia No. 2, Belle and Kate Robinson were advertised to leave there for Pittsburgh on Tuesday.

We extract the following from the Cincinnati Commercial, of Tuesday: Captain Geo. W. Neare was elected a Director in the C. C. M. Association yesterday, in place of Capt. John C. Reno, resigned. The Ida Rees discharged 163 tons here, and left for Louisville last night with 1620 tons. She will probably go to Nashville, on the Havana, and a small lot for New Orleans on the Emerald. The Ida Rees will return here in time to leave for Pittsburgh on Saturday. The Messenger reshipped 19 tons Pittsburgh freight on the R. R. Hudson yesterday. The Belle, Capt. Laughery, leaves at 4 p. m. to-day, instead of 12 m. Capt. Thos. Shuman, of the Wanalita, is in the city.

Capt. Dryden telegraphs, under date of Monday, as follows: The river is on a stand, with 8 feet six inches in the pass over the falls, and 7 feet over the rocks, for tows, and 6 feet for ascending boats. The weather is clear and pleasant, with the wind in the west. The Glasgow and Maggie Hays passed down. The following towboats have arrived from Pittsburgh: Grand Lake, Sam. Roberts, Arrow and Eagle. Three towboats and barges passed over the falls to-day.

The Louisville Courier, of Monday, says: Several of the coal fleet, the steamer Nora, came in from Pittsburgh yesterday with heavy tows of coal, the last of the May run from Pittsburgh. Some were landed at the pumpkin patch, and others at the foot of the tow head to prepare for another adventure. The Pittsburgh pilots and crews are generally paid off here, and new crews engaged to go up river.
